RISK AND REWARD PROFILE

The risk and reward indicator table demonstrates where the Fund will rank in terms of potential risk and return. Typically, the higher the rank, the greater the potential reward but also the greater the risk of losing money.

The lowest risk category does not mean risk free. It is based upon how the investments which the Fund will hold have performed in the past and the Fund may well perform differently in the future. Historical data may not be a reliable indication for the future. The shaded area shows the Fund's ranking on the risk and reward indicator.

The risk category is not guaranteed and may shift over time. It is based on a standard calculation method that is used by all UCITS funds.

The following are risks materially relevant to the Fund which are not adequately captured by the indicator:

- The value of securities may go down as well as up, depending on the performance of companies and general market conditions.
- The value at which securities in certain companies can be liquidated may differ, sometimes significantly, from the interim valuations.
- Investment in securities of certain companies may be less liquid, more volatile and subject to greater risks than securities of other companies.
- As the Fund may invest in derivatives, such as FX Forwards, it may lose more than the amount invested in such derivatives.
- Subject to the requirements of the Regulations, the Fund may, at certain times, hold a small number of investments, which may lead to significant losses where it holds a large position in a particular investment that declines in value.
- The Fund's base currency is the US Dollar. Investors in shares denominated in another currency may be affected by changes in currency movements

For full details of the relevant risks reference should be made to the risk factors sections of the prospectus and supplement.
